

The JuNcTion

Volume 1, Issue 4

March 2004

The JuNcTion is the periodic newsletter of JNT Consulting published electronically. For more information about JNT Consulting visit us at <http://www.jntconsulting.com>

'Language and cultural orientation play a big role in the transfer of international interns' - JNT Consulting quoted in March Issue of Mobility

Special points of interest:

- Juntee Terrenal, M.A. shared his global perspective on the relocation of Interns with Frank Mauck, Mobility Staff Writer

In a major article for the March Issue of Mobility (ERC's Professional Magazine) JNT Consulting was quoted regarding the international relocation of Interns.

In an interview with Frank Mauck, Staff Writer of Mobility, Juntee Terrenal, M.A., Founder and President of JNT

Consulting discussed several issues that are vital to make programs of this type successful.

Key highlights are: 'Deciding where the intern will stay for the duration of the trip, and how he or she will get to and from work, are key pieces of the policies.'

'Although policy in place will alleviate many concerns, relocation and human resource managers should know that everything cannot be planned for.'

Read the full article by clicking the following link: Mobility Magazine Article March 2004 \(pdf\)

'Considerations regarding the domestic relocation of interns may be easy to address, but it is important to remember that international moves have their own unique set of concerns'

At the ARA Spring Conference, Juntee Terrenal's key note speech covered many global mobility issues. See the January Issue of The JuNcTion.

Mobility - the total relocation magazine, is published monthly by Worldwide ERC. Mobility examines key issues affecting the relocation industry for the benefit of employers, and firms or individuals providing specific services to relocated employees and their families. <http://www.erc.org>